SAN JOSE STATE COLLEGE

VOL. 46

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, MARCH 2, 1959

NO. 86

High School Forensic Competitors Hold National Tournament Here

Students from 16 northern California schools were on campus last weekend competing for honors in the National Forensic League District Tournament.

First place winner will go to the national contest in Miami. Second and third place winners will compete in the state contest in San Diego.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, (R-S.D.) is president of the National Forensic League. Other members of the organization include actor Richard Egan, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn.) and Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The 256 students competing in this phase of the national contest system are being judged by San Jose area lawyers, speech teachers, and upper division and graduate students.

Miss Carmendale Fernandes, NFL district chairman, said students competed in one or more classifications—original oratory, extemporaneous, impromptu, debate, dramatic interpretation, oratorical interpretation and humorous interpretation.

Each of the following schools sent 16 students to the SJS campus Friday and Saturday: St. Joseph's, Alameda; Los Gatos High School; St. Ignatius, San Francisco; Fremont High School, Sunnyvale; Abraham Lincoln High School, San Francisco.

Also competing were Riordan High School, San Francisco; Belarmine, San Jose; St. Mary's, Berkeley; Abraham Lincoln, San Jose; Salinas High School, Bishop O'Dowd, San Francisco; Richmond High School; Sunnyvale High School; Lowell High School, San Francisco; Menlo-Atherton High School; and James Lick High School, San Jose.

Phi Beta Kappa Honors Graduate

Rosalind Peabody, graduate English student, received the Phi Beta Kappa Faculty Club's award for having the highest academic average in liberal arts of the January graduating class.

Mrs. Peabody, who is now working for a master of arts degree in English, is from Palo Alto.

She was presented with two books, "The Oxford Companion to English Literature," and "The Oxford Companion to American Literature," according to Dr. Brant Clark, president of the club.

Mrs. Peabody also was elected to membership in the Key Club, Dr. Clark said.

The faculty group makes the award to a member of each graduating class who has the highest academic average with a liberal arts background.

Faculty Schedules Series on Teaching

Dr. Richard Tansey, professor of art, will review Gilbert Highet's "Art of Teaching" tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. in Cafeteria Room A.

The program is the first in a series of three on the improvement and evaluation of teaching, according to Dr. Harold Miller, chairman of the Committee on Improvement of Instruction.

Two panel discussions, on classroom procedures and evaluation of teaching, will be held April 6 and 23.

Sponsored by the Faculty Forum, the Instructors' Assn. and the Committee on Improvement and Instruction, the programs are open to all students and faculty members, Dr. Miller said.

Spartan Y Sponsors Weekend Retreat

A weekend "Retreat toward Reality" will be sponsored by the Spartan Y, Friday through Sunday at the Easter Seal camp.

Four SJS faculty members will participate in the discussions. Mrs. Ruth Purkale, program director of the Committee on Friendly Relations among Foreign Students, will speak.

"It promises to be a challenging experience," commented John Bird, publicity chairman for the event.

Buses will leave the Spartan Y at 5 p.m. Friday and return Sunday at 1 p.m. Signups may be made at the Y or on the ISO bulletin board in the Speech and Drama Bldg.

Students are asked to furnish their own bedroll and personal articles. Cost for food is $5.50, according to Bob Keck, chairman of the retreat.

Coed Fencing Club Begins on Tuesday

The Fencing Club, a co-educational organization, begins Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. in WG22. This is not a class and women students will be given W.A.A. credits, according to Miss Phyllis Philp, physical education instructor, and club adviser. Previous experience is necessary to participate, she adds.

NEW PLAY OPENS

'Sleeping Prince' Keeps House Awake; 'Snappy' Humor Highlights Production

BY MIKE JOHNSON
Fine Arts Editor

The SJS Speech and Drama Department Friday night opened "The Sleeping Prince" to a near-capacity audience.

A modern comedy by Terence Rattigan set in the early 20th century, its snappy humor kept the audience's attention throughout both acts. Miss Elizabeth Loeffler, associate professor of drama, was director. She said she chose this play because "it is different from others scheduled for the year. It is a relaxing comedy."

The "Sleeping Prince," portrayed by John Ford, is an arrogant and egotistical Regent from a fictional Balkan country. His enthusiasm for women is quite pronounced, and this leads him into the situation around which the story is built.

The Regent is in London attending the coronation of George V, and a British Foreign officer invites an American chorus girl, played by Carolyn Reed, to dine with him. When she arrives, she discovers the party is only for two, and tries to cancel the date so she will not have to fight her way "out of a tete-a-tete supper."

But the Regent has "Balkan fire" in his veins, and in the end she spends the night with him. The involved and hilarious situations that ensue are interrupted periodically by phone calls from the Regent's homeland where revolution is about to break out.

The chorus girl's lack of refinement made possible most of the humor, and the Regent later recalled the experience "an unqualified nightmare."

His worries about growing old led him to tell his chorus girl that he was "the sleeping prince who awaits the kiss that will bring him back to life."

Independent Men, Women To Meet

Independent Men and Women will meet tonight at 7:30 to plan a stag St. Patrick's Day Dance for March 13.

Independent houses are asked to send one or two representatives to the meeting in Cafeteria room A. They are asked to bring an approximate number of persons expected to attend the dance from the respective houses.

300 Ducats Left

Some 300 tickets to the George Shearing concert Wednesday night in Morris Dailey Auditorium are still available at the Student Affairs Business Office, TH16, and in the Inner Quad. Tickets sell for $1.25 for general admission.

Los Angeles Gets Nod From Demos For '60 Convention

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic National Committee voted Friday to hold the party's 1960 national convention in Los Angeles.

The action came after the committee rejected bids offered by Chicago and Philadelphia during four hours of spirited debate.

Los Angeles was recommended by the site committee and the full committee voted 71 to 35 to approve.

J. M. Arvey of Illinois lost by voice vote a motion to substitute Chicago for Los Angeles in the site committee's recommendation.

Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania then offered a motion to hold the convention in Philadelphia. He was defeated on a 68-37 roll call.

Supporters of Los Angeles argued that its selection was justifiable recognition of the growing Democratic strength in the West.

Backers of Chicago and Philadelphia argued that travel costs to Los Angeles would be a hardship and that the three-hour time lag behind the Eastern Seaboard would cut down the television audience.

'I'll Fight Hard For Budget'—Pat

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said Friday he intends to "fight hard" for his budget proposal that would increase state employees' salaries by five per cent and would give more aid to school districts.

Sen. Hugh Burns, Senate Democratic leader, said he is against the administration's proposal and wants to chop 58 million dollars from the program earmarked for aid to employees and schools.

"The cost of education isn't cheap," the governor replied. He added that state employees haven't had a raise in two years.

Student Union Plans Begin

Dr. C. Grant Burton, executive dean, indicated Friday that San Jose State might spend next year without a permanent Student Union building.

"The plans for the new student union building, which will be located behind the cafeteria, are in progress, but are not completed and no date has been set for beginning construction," he said.

Life on the 'Farm'

Stanfordites Land Plane on Campus

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—Two Stanford University students crash-landed their light plane on the campus here Friday and walking two miles to the university's health service for treatment.

Cecil M. Taylor, 23, pilot of the plane and a geology student of 2033 Wellesley St., Palo Alto, was hospitalized for facial cuts and possible head injuries.

His companion, David K. Williams, of Mountain View, was apparently only bruised.

The flyers were forced to make an emergency landing when their plane developed engine trouble over King's Mountain.

WAA Plans Slate Of New Activities

Women's Athletic Association is scheduling several activities to begin this week which will continue through the spring semester.

On Tuesday, basketball, taught by Miss Jacquelyn Wilson, instructor in physical education, will meet in WG23 at 7 p.m. Fencing will be held in WG22 at 4:30 p.m., taught by Miss Phyllis Philp, instructor in physical education.

Bowling will begin Wednesday at 4 p.m. at Bridgeman's on Santa Clara St. Miss Shirley Gorrell, instructor in physical education, will be the instructor.

Swimming also will begin on Wednesday. Sponsored by Dr. Hildegard Spreen, professor of physical education, the activity will be held in WG16 at 4:30 p.m.

Badminton will begin on Thursday in WG23 at 4:30 p.m., sponsored by Miss Mary Neal, instructor in physical education.

Tumbling, sponsored by Miss Phyllis Philp, instructor in physical education, will be held on Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in WG23.

Orchestra, sponsored by Miss Margaret Lawler, assistant in physical education, will meet in WG10, with date and time to be announced.

Baby Comes Early; Prof Helps Stork

Kenneth A. Johnston, associate professor of education, "went through it like an M.D." when delivering his baby son last week, according to his mother-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Haugen.

The family doctor arrived 15 minutes after little David Kenneth, 8 pounds and 9 ounces, did. Mrs. Johnston and the baby were then taken to the hospital, but will return home today or tomorrow, Mrs. Haugen said.

The Johnstons have two other sons Philip, 8 and Douglas, 3½; and a daughter, Lucinda, 10.

Doctor To Explain Hypnotism

Hypnotism and its uses in producing insensibility to pain will be demonstrated Wednesday in CH149 at 7 p.m.

Herbert Mann, M.D. of San Jose, will conduct the lecture, discussing hypnotism's application to medicine.

The regular meeting of the Pre-Med Society, is open to interested students.

The present Student Union and Coop will be razed probably sometime in June. "The building will definitely not be standing at the beginning of next semester," stated William M. Felse, business manager of student affairs.

Plans call for the fountain equipment of the Coop to be sold on April 1. "Maybe some of the sorority or fraternity houses will be interested in buying it," Felse said, "if only for keepsake purposes." The proposed student union will not have fountain facilities.

Plans for a temporary building to house the student government offices and a lounge for the student body have been discussed, and action is slated for sometime next month according to Edward S. Thompson, business manager.

The most mentioned choice is one of the barracks buildings which could be partitioned to accommodate student council meetings as well as offices and a lounge.

The present site occupied by the Student Union is the site of the new five-story addition to the library. Plans for the annex have been completed and construction is due to start this summer.

Legislator Prods Speed Measure To 'Improve Flow'

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assemblyman Lee M. Backstrand (R-Riverside) Friday took on motorists who drive too slowly on California highways.

Backstrand introduced a bill in the legislature authorizing the State Department of Public Works to set minimum speed zones on the basis of engineering and traffic surveys.

He said his measure was designed "to try to make traffic flow more smoothly" and had been attempted with success in other states.

"The one who holds up a long line of traffic, he's as dangerous as the one who drives too fast," Backstrand said.

Flying 20 To Discuss Member Increase

The Flying 20 Club will hold a special membership meeting tomorrow night in the Student Union at 8. The group is in the process of increasing its membership.

New officers of the club are Bob Howard, president; Jim Eddy, vice president; Harry Farnham, secretary; and Phil Benson, treasurer.

The club will sponsor the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Air Meet at Reid's Hillview Airport May 9.

David Diven, star of such hits as "I Married A Monster From Madison Avenue," "I Was A Teen-Age Adman" and "The Creature From the Grey Flannel Lagoon," says, "You can even travel around the world in 79 Days and you still won't find a selection perfection of all-wool Pendleton sportshirts like you will at good ol' R/AT! These sportshirts can be had for a mere 11.95 each..."

Timber Topper Gets Help Reading Daily

Everyone is trying to get into the act. Even pert Carol Woodford, with the aid of a table, is having difficulty looking over the shoulder of 6 foot 7 Bertil Holmgren, a senior who hails from Stockholm, Sweden. Not exactly a midget herself (5 foot 6), Carol must be content to "stand this one out."

Sophs Decide at Last; They'll Sponsor 'Gams'

The search is on after all for the SJS guy with the most beautiful legs.

The Gorgeous Gams contest definitely will be sponsored by the Sophomore Class, Pres. Skip Fisk said Friday. The contest is scheduled March 4 to March 11.

"We already have the wheels turning," Fisk stated. He urged all sophomores to attend the class meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in S124. "There will be something for everyone to do," he added.

Sophomore class officers were unaware that they were to sponsor the contest until an article appeared in the Spartan Daily. Bob McKeown, finance committee chairman, indicated Friday.

Fisk explained that a mix-up in scheduling resulted in the lack of contest organization.

Gorgeous Gams, a money-making project, seeks the best looking masculine legs on campus. Sponsoring organizations support their candidates with contributions of pennies.

Fraternities, sororities, and other living groups should have pictures taken of their candidate's legs as soon as possible, Fisk said.

The Sophomore Class also will sponsor the Betty Coed-Joe College Contest during the week of April 6. Becky Fudge is chairman for the event.

Teamster Beck Gets Five Years

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI)—Former Teamster President Dave Beck, described as a man with "insatiable greed," today was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $60,000 for income tax evasion. Beck also was assessed $10,961.52 court costs.

Beck will be required to post bail totaling the fine and assessment while his conviction is being appealed.

U.S. District Judge George H. Boldt gave Beck, 64, the maximum sentence of five years and $10,000 fine on each of the six counts upon which he was judged guilty by a federal court jury last week.

Beck took the sentencing stoically but his complexion reddened physically as the judge commented on the seriousness of the crimes. When asked if he had any statement to make Beck told the judge, "none whatever."

In sentencing Beck, Boldt said he took into consideration Beck's age, health and the fact that he also may serve a sentence for conviction on grand larceny charges at Seattle.

ASB Job Open

Applications are now available for the appointive position of Community Service Committee chairman, and can be obtained in the Student Union from Mrs. Betty Haskett, ASB secretary.

Students must apply before Wednesday in order to be interviewed at the Student Council meeting at 2:30 p.m.

Excavating Course May Be Added

All students interested in a possible excavating course in archaeology to be held next fall are requested to contact Dr. Joseph Hester, assistant professor of sociology, before Friday in CH223. His office hours are 12:30 every afternoon.

Dr. Hester, who has done extensive field work in Mexico, needs to know for class scheduling how many students would be interested in the upper-division three-unit course.

Students will be trained in techniques of excavation and preparation of discoveries. Prerequisites are an intense interest and "a shovel and trowel," Dr. Hester said.

Students would work every Saturday or Sunday at a local site. There also would be two hours of lecture during the week.

There is a lecture course now covering the subject. Field work has been done "intermittently" in the past, Dr. Hester reports.

Junior Class Changes Meeting Place to TH7

The Junior Class will meet today in a different room, TH7, at 3:30 p.m., Ross Phelps, vice president, announced.

During the meeting, committees for the Junior Prom will be discussed, and signups for the committees will be accepted.

HERE'S UPI REPORT

Guild Sues Mercury-News

SAN JOSE (UPI)—The San Jose Newspaper Guild Friday filed a complaint for $40,000 damages against publisher Joseph B. Ridder and a group of other employees of the strikebound San Jose Mercury and News.

The complaint, filed at the Santa Clara County Clerk's Office, charged complicity to restrain trade in violation of the state's Antitrust Act. It asked damages of $20,000 plus punitive damages of $20,000.

Others named in the action were Mercury and News Circulation Director Ancel Turner, his assistant Fred J. Colla, Darrell Everett Goff, a non-union subscription solicitor, and 25 unidentified employees.

The suit charged that Turner and Colla yesterday stood outside the plant of the San Jose Reporter, a newspaper being published by the guild during the suspension of publication by the Mercury and News, and threatened teamster deliverymen that they would be fired for handling the guild paper.

Goff, 25, of 445 Morchell Dr., San Jose, was named in the complaint after he confessed Thursday to attempting to destroy thousands of newspapers, including copies of the Reporter.

Goff, who worked as a solicitor for the Mercury and News before the strike, said the act was his own idea. He was charged with malicious mischief and released on $363 bail.

The Mercury and News management denied knowing anything about the incident and said, "We do not condone such actions by anyone."

POVERTY CAN BE FUN

It is no disgrace to be poor. It is an error, but it is no disgrace.

So if your purse is empty, do not skulk and brood and hide your head in shame. Stand tall. Admit your poverty. Admit it freely and frankly and all kinds of good things will happen to you. Take, for instance, the case of Blossom Sigafos.

Blossom, an impecunious freshman at an Eastern girls' college, was smart as a whip and round as a dumpling, and scarcely a day went by when she didn't get invited to a party weekend at one of the nearby men's schools. But Blossom never accepted. She did not have the rail fare; she did not have the clothes. Weekend after weekend, while her classmates went frolicking, Blossom sat alone, saved from utter despair only by her pack of Marlboros, for even an exchequer as slim as Blossom's can afford the joys of Marlboro—joys far beyond their paltry price: rich, mellow tobaccos, lovingly cured and carefully packed; a new improved filter that works like a charm. Croesus himself could not buy a better cigarette!

However, Marlboro's most passionate admirers—among whose number I am paid to count myself—would not claim that Marlboro can entirely replace love and romance, and Blossom grew steadily morose.

Then one day came a phone call from an intelligent sophomore named Tom O'Shanter at a nearby men's college. "Blossom," said Tom, "I want you to come down next week for the barley festival, and I won't take no for an answer."

"No," said Blossom. "Foolish girl," said Tom gently. "I know why you refuse me. It is because you are poor, isn't it?"

"Yes," said Blossom.

"I will send you a railroad ticket," said Tom. "Also a small salami in case you get hungry on the train."

"But I have nothing to wear," said Blossom.

Tom replied, "I will send you one suit of cashmere, two gowns of lace, three slacks of velvet, four shoes of calf, five socks of nylon, and a partridge in a pear tree."

"That is most kind," said Blossom, "but I fear I cannot dance and enjoy myself while back home my poor lame brother Tiny Tim lies a-bed."

"Send him to Mayo Brothers and put it on my tab," said Tom.

"You are terribly decent," said Blossom, "but I cannot come to your party because all the other girls at the party will be from rich, distinguished families, and my father is but a humble woodcutter."

"I will buy him Yosemite," said Tom.

"You have a great heart," said Blossom. "Hold the phone while I ask our wise and kindly old Dean of Women whether it is proper for me to accept all these gifts."

She went forthwith and asked the Dean of Women, and the Dean of Women laid her wise and kindly old hand on Blossom's cheek and said, "Child, let not false pride rob you of happiness. Accept these gifts from Tom."

"Lord love you, Wise and Kindly," breathed Blossom, dropping grateful tears into the Dean's reticule. "I must run and tell Tom."

"Yes, run, child," said the Dean, a smile wrinkling her wise and kindly old eyes. "And ask him has he got an older brother."

The makers of filter-tip Marlboro, who bring you this column, are also the makers of non-filter Philip Morris, who also bring you this column. Whichever you choose, you're right.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

AT LEAST HE'S TRYIN' TO HOLD OUR INTEREST.

By JERRY NACHMAN

EVERY SEMESTER OR SO, I find it necessary to go climbing in the bookshelves. Not for books, especially, just for auld lang syne.

And as I wend skyward up the staircase, my imagination runs rampant and at once the secret life of Jerry Nachman begins unfolding before my very eyes.

First I am ancient, walking along the walls of King Tut's tomb. Now I am Sir Edmund Hillary, digging my way up Everest, the oxygen growing thinner with each step! Flash—now I am a brick carrier in Babylon, scaling the pyramids!

But my destination is neither gold or gems, neither is it the fair hand of a princess. Or a buried kingdom. Nay—it is merely 871-892.

In making my ascent I notice an eerie absence of sound. Clack-clock, clack-clock, up the tin steps. My breaking the sound barrier brings a good deal of stern scowling from the people who look as if they are preparing for their doctorates!

Thick volumes lie in three foot high piles at their elbows and they scribble madly on huge sheets of yellow paper; they never, never look up. Except, of course, to frown at me for carrying my books too loudly, but I nod apologetically since I can see they are doing a great work.

Often I have dreamt of meeting my future love in the book stacks. (It would be a romantic situation, you must admit.) Nobody from Chaucer to Coleridge to disturb us. Many times I have spotted two lovely blue eyes peeping over a shelf where someone has chance to remove a book. All I glimpse is a book-shaped rectangle framing an eyebrow, lips and perhaps some hair. But nothing ever comes of it.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE for me to find the book I came for. "Ah—I have always wanted to read this," I sigh, picking up a "Complete Works of Uncle Wiggily." But worse than being distracted by brightly painted covers, I can never seem to beat the buzzer that sounds each night at 9:50.

At approximately 9:47 I find the book I am after, but then I get panicky and my brain turns to Jello. Quickly I leap down the stairs, headed for the checkout stands. It is 9:48 now. Level four. Level three. Two. One. Zero—then: BZZZZZZZZZZ.

And I am left at the starting gate again. Next week I am going equipped with a starting block, track spikes and an official. My time is getting better and I may try for the World's Intercollegiate Library Run next year in Rome.

Put three math books on me to place.

No Room in P.E.

Dear Thrust and Parry:

I have a beef. When it has been known by the P.E. Department that certain classes, such as P.E. 53, are very popular, why can't additional sections be formed to take care of the demand? I have been trying to take this course, and each time there has been no room. Furthermore, this course isn't being scheduled this summer. How come?

THE ANSWER MAN

T-Bone Barbarians Have Scraping Time

by LOU LUCIA

Barbarian! That's the word to describe the modern man and woman.

Take the average male. He arises early in order to take out a piece of steel and scrape it against his face. Sometimes we wonder which gets sharper, the steel or his face.

He drinks water and beans which is made in a tin pot and hurries to the garage to get into his two-pedaled, no-topped steering contraption.

The motorist turns knobs continually and listens to the walling sounds of Little Richard, Fats Domino or Skinnay Ennis. In between, a smooth talking gentleman comes on and tells the motorist where he can buy dead cows, plucked chickens and wild vegetables.

Arriving at his shed where he performs duties in order to buy dead cows, the motorist parks his wheels along with a number of other wheels of various sizes. He gives the person who parks it 35 cents in order that he, too, can buy a dead cow.

His means of conveyance is a device which lifts and also descends. It is a cage, like the ones animals are put in, and every time it stops, the workers' stomach keeps on going.

By this time his wife has pulled all the little pieces of iron out of her head. During the night she looked as if she had been hit by 50 pieces of shrapnel. Her duties consist of keeping the enclosure they live in clean.

Her face is painted and she wears shoes which are to protect her feet but yet have holes in them. She is different than he is. Again though, there is a similarity. A gossip woman is called "catty" and an over-ambitious male a "wolf."

These beastly terms are tossed about over a piece of plastic which has a long cord connected to another piece of plastic. A cable outside allows this convenience. The cable sometimes sizzles when it rains. It sometimes sizzles when it doesn't rain.

We're not complaining. Maybe tomorrow we'll be able to buy a piece of T-bone dead cow.

To err is human... to erase, divine with

RAY NORTON'S 75-YARD DASH MARK A RECORD? After this writer made several inquiries as to the listed times under this short-tongue-beater, no mark for an outdoor race at this distance could be found.

The 75-yarder is an odd distance and not recognized by the AAU. We speak of recognition in this sense as being one in which the records kept are not significant since the event is hardly, if ever, run. Fred Imhoff of the San Jose Mercury, noted source on track records, said according to his records just the INDOOR record of 7.4 is recorded as a world's record. Rapid Ray zipped the short jaunt in 7.3. "Perhaps we can claim the first OUTDOOR record," Imhoff said.

PERHAPS THE CLOSEST RACE of last week's meet was the 160-yard L.H. Kent Herkenrath and Mickey Machamer finished in an apparent dead-heat when the photo (Stu Inman's photographic eye) gave the nod to Herkenrath by a nose. Incidentally, Herky sliced 4 of a second off the old record.

OVER-SHADOWED BY NORTON'S DISPLAYS of super-humanism, this writer blinked twice after jotting down Tim Curtis' record-breaking 352-yard run. Curtis toed the distance in 37.2 beating the old novice mark by 2.4, something a little less than sensational at such a distance.

Looking again, I found that the varsity mark for this event was 38.0 . . . will wonders ever cease!

POSTPONEMENTS ARE GETTING TO BE THE RULE rather than the exception. Monday's scheduled field event meet (broad-jump, pole vault and hop-step-jump) has been moved to Wednesday after it was found that the new approaches will not be ready by then.

Grapplers Drop Tilts To Beavers

Oregon State Beavers dropped the San Jose Spartans from the undefeated ranks, by virtue of a 23-3 victory Friday night, before a disappointing crowd at Spartan Gym.

The Spartans captured their only match in the 130 lb. class when Marvin Rodriguez decided Denys Overholser 6-4. In the opening bout Mitzi Tamura decided Carl Arevalo in the 123 lb. class.

Although the Beavers defeated the Spartans by a decisive margin the matches were closely contested, bouts.

In the 137 lb. class, OSC's Bill Worrell outpointed Dick Alderson for the decision.

LeRoy Stewart gave the SJS fans one of only a few enthusiastic moments as he lost a close decision, 9-8, to Larry Wright in the 147 lb. class. Wright was the 1957 PCI champion and finished second in the PCI's last year. Stewart held an edge over his northern opponent throughout most of the match. Wright had to stage a strong comeback in the third round to stop the aggressive Spartan.

Tom Geigner decided Donn Mall in the 157 lb. class, 12-5. The two grapplers were closely matched for a round and one-half before the experienced Beaver closed in on his opponent.

Fritz Fivian, third place finisher in the 1958 AAU tourney, pinned 167 lb. Pete Berman in the second round.

The first half of "Murderers Row," Don Conway, had a difficult time with Bernie Slate as he decided him to capture the 177 lb. class match. Heavyweight John Dustin, the second half of "Murderers Row," topped Nick Sanger in the heavyweight class. Dustin has been the PCI champion for the 191-lb. class for two seasons.

The Spartans will now prep for the PCI championship matches to be held in Corvallis, Ore., Friday and Saturday.

Spartans Face Indians Tomorrow

By HARVEY JOHNSON
Sports Editor

With hopes of attaining a winning stride, the San Jose State varsity baseballers will square off with Stanford in the latter's home field tomorrow at 3 p.m.

The Spartans opened their season Thursday, dropping a squeaker to Cal, 1-0. Opening home game for the Spartans will be played Friday afternoon in Municipal Stadium at 2:30.

Coach Ed Sobczak appears optimistic about Spartan possibilities this season, and well he might be. The diamond men show depth at every position, one fault for the Spartans' lowly position last year. Sobczak will open with returning letterman Don Christianson catching. However, Christianson will get a run for his position from two junior college transfers, Jim Coutts from Orange Coast and Phil Bertelson, a product of Fresno.

The Spartan hill corps will be bolstered by lettermen Bill Leach and Larry Williams. Graduating freshmen flingers include Dick Holden and Joel Guthrie. Holden and Williams will form the southpaw slant of the mound crew.

Five transfers will help to solidify the mound staff. Transfers include Jon Holmquist, Julio Es-cornilla, Earl Fauss, Lee Reinertson and Bob Woods.

At the initial sack Sobczak has three capable fielders in letterman Jim Schmiedt; transfer Kris Reinertson; and freshman graduate John Galvin.

Bob Krail and Bill Inderbitzen formed the keystone positions in the opening game at Cal. However, both players will get a good battle for their positions from sophomore Larry Bachiu and footballer Doug McChesney.

Sobczak has converted Jim Long from second to third base where the junior letterman will perform this season. Long will be backed up by Jerry Baker.

One outfield returnee, Emmett Lee will form the nucleus of a young inexperienced outfield. Lee departed midway through last season for spring football practices. Aspiring rookies are Bill Nichols, Al Pimentel, Jim Pusateri and Carl Talley.

Sobczak will sport his baseballers before the home fans Friday afternoon against the Cal Poly Mustangs at Municipal Stadium. Game time is 2:30.

INDIAN HUNTER—Jim Schmiedt, Spartan first baseman, will take aim at the slants of the Stanford Indian pitching staff tomorrow afternoon at the Palo Alto Sunken Diamond. Game-time is 3 p.m.
